

We believe in responsible food and agriculture®

Scott Fredericksen, President, Perdue AgriBusiness

Scott Fredericksen is President of Perdue AgriBusiness LLC, one of two operating divisions of Perdue Farms. He oversees a diverse group of agricultural businesses in the domestic and international food, feed, agricultural inputs and biofuel industries. Perdue AgriBusiness is among the largest U.S. grain companies.

Perdue AgriBusiness sources, purchases and processes agricultural commodities from more than 8,000 farmers and offers a diverse portfolio of products, including grains, soybean meal, blended feed ingredients, organic and speciality seeds and top-quality oils for the food industry, and services from logistics to information management, including accounting, risk management and information technology.