

Julie Katigan

Executive Vice President and Chief Human Resource Officer

Julie Katigan is the Executive Vice President and Chief Human Resource Officer for Perdue Farms, overseeing all aspects of Perdue Farms' people strategies that engage and develop talent, shape culture, and focus on associate well-being through active talent management, organization development, diversity and inclusion and total rewards. Most recently, Julie served as Senior Vice President, Human Resources, Perdue Foods and was responsible for all aspects of human resources strategy and operations for Perdue Foods, aligned to the company's ambition to be the most trusted name in food and agricultural products.

Prior to joining Perdue Farms, Julie was the Chief Human Resources Officer for James Hardie Building Products. She has also held senior-level leadership roles of increasing responsibility at global business unit and function level with companies such as Colfax Corporation, Electrolux, Mead Johnson Nutrition, and Ford.

Katigan holds a master of science in Labor & Industrial Relations, and a bachelor of arts, both from Michigan State University.

