

Todd Tillemans Chief Commercial Officer

With more than 30 years of experience leading global consumer brands, Todd Tillemans brings a deep understanding of customer behavior, market dynamics, and brand loyalty to his role as Chief Commercial Officer of Perdue Foods.

Todd oversees all sales, marketing, and innovation activities for Perdue's chicken and turkey products, spanning retail, foodservice, wholesale, industrial, and international markets. He is responsible for driving growth and innovation across these segments while ensuring Perdue continues to deliver exceptional customer service and trusted, high-quality products.

Throughout his career, Todd has led at the intersection of business performance and purpose. Before joining Perdue, he held senior leadership positions in the personal care, beauty, and food and beverage industries, where he championed brand transformation and growth. He was the Chief Executive Officer at Cynosure, and before that, the U.S. President at The Hershey Company, where he revitalized the growth strategy for the company. Prior to joining Hershey, he led multiple businesses across global markets for Unilever and he proudly served in the U.S. Marine Corps. He is an alumnus of the University of Minnesota and received his MBA from the University of Chicago Booth School of Business.

As an active industry leader, Todd has served on numerous boards and foundations, contributing his expertise to initiatives that elevate both business and community.
